

FIRST MEETING AGENDA

The KUL Enterprises Website

Sixty minutes. Mark Brown and Jalen Edusei.

One hour, two goals: your feedback on every page, and kulenterprises.com pointed at the new site with quote delivery switched on. If you want a head start, the working site is live at kul-enterprises.vercel.app.

- 01 The full site, page by page ABOUT 35 MINUTES
Every page of the live site, top to bottom, at reading pace. Your reactions drive the work that follows: anything you want changed goes on a written punch list before we move on. Nothing is final until you have seen it and said so.
- 02 Your domain, connected live ABOUT 15 MINUTES
We point kulenterprises.com at the new site together, then switch on email delivery so quote and contact submissions reach your inbox. We finish by sending a real test quote and watching it arrive. Your email keeps working exactly as it does today.
- 03 What the site still needs from you ABOUT 8 MINUTES
Three short sittings on your own schedule: an hour at a computer for the remaining accounts, an hour with the truck and a phone camera using the shot list I will hand you, and a few business details to put on record.
- 04 Next steps FINAL 2 MINUTES
We schedule your editing training session, then set the launch target together.

PLEASE HAVE READY

- Your Squarespace login, the account where kulenterprises.com lives.
- Access to the dispatch@kulenterprises.com inbox during the meeting.
- Your phone, to see the site the way a broker first will.